

After Forty-one days the six Sahrawi prisoners of conscience in sale /Morocco ended their hunger strike.

We want to announce to the public that we have decided to suspend our open hunger strike on the evening of Tuesday, April 27th, 2010, after we have received pledges from the Moroccan authorities following many dialogues and meetings during the last two weeks of the strike regarding our case.

And we note that the health status of the group is affected by the hunger strike, many complications, as well as suffering with a number of other chronic diseases.

In the end we are sending our regards and appreciation to all international supporters of democracy, human rights groups, governments, parliaments and organizations who have supported us throughout in this battle for our right to dignity. And the same to all the Sahrawi political prisoners in Moroccan prisons for their involvement in hunger strike in solidarity with our fight.
